FIFTH SIGN-UP OF YOUNG MEN NEXT TUESDAY

SACRAMENTO — That Selective Service in California will again follow the same procedure used in the previous registration periods when every possible facility was placed at the disposal of the registrant in order that he may not be subjected to any undue hardship in meeting the Nation's call for his sign-up was announced today by State Headquarters of Selective Service.

According to estimates announced by State Headquarters, some 160,000 California men in the 18-20 year age group are expected to register in the Nation's fifth sign-up under wartime emergency measures, scheduled to take place Tuesday, June 30.

Registrants will be asked the same nine questions that were recorded in all the preceding registrations, namely: (1) Name of registrant; (2) Place of residence; (3) Mailing Address (if other than place of residence); (4) Telephone; (5) Age in years and Date of Birth; (6) Place of birth; (7) Name and address of person who will always know registrant's address; (8) Employer's name and address, and (9) Place of employment or business. The only differentiating factor is that gray colored registration cards have been chosen to designate registrants of the Fifth R-Day.

State Headquarters requested that registrants be prepared and ready to give all answers promptly so that a speedy registration may be effected.

The Fifth Registration includes all male residents of California, citizens and aliens, born on or after January 1, 1922 and on or before June 30, 1924. Throughout the state several thousand men and women have volunteered their services as registrars at the 3,000 registration places which will be open from 7:00 a. m. until 9:00 p. m.

The location of registration places in the Washington Township part of the Draft Board 75 area are Justice Court at Centerville and Justice Court at Niles.

MISSION RIFLE TEAM DOES SOME GOOD SHOOTING

Each team took their turn and the home town boys finished with a score of 911 out of a possible 1000. Paul Hunt scored 190, Walter Steinmetz, 184, Tiny Silva, 181, Marston Dassel 179, Tony Costa 177.

On Monday June 22nd, our team went to San Jose to the range of the P. G. & E. Rod and Gun Club for a four team match. Tangle and Twist team scored 945, highest score, San Jose Water Works, 894, and the P. G. & E. Rod and Gun Club and the Palto Alto Rod and Gun tied with 880. NEW FIRE TRUCK

The fine new white fire-truck reached Niles last week to join another large, modern pumper already on the job. The fire ladders tried it out answering an alarm on Third and I streets on Saturday; gave an exhibition of water pumping on G street, and used it on two railroad grass fires on Monday. It is a beautiful job, and the boys seem to like it (but they don't like all these alarms.)

MEN IN SERVICE NEED LOTS OF PLAYING CARDS

OAKLAND — American men leaving West Coast ports for fighting fronts abroad want to do a bit of playing while they're at sea — and they want bridge decks, pinocle decks and small games to do their playing with.

Number of decks of cards turned over to the men thus far has not even dent the problem of recreation aboard ship, and the Red Cross said yesterday army officers had requested that literally thousands of decks be given.

From women's clubs, men's fraternal organizations, from homes and apartments the new or used decks must pour forth in a tremendous stream to meet the requests.

The cards and games contributed by Oakland men, women and organizations should be mailed or taken to the Oakland Red Cross chapter house at 108 Lake street.

U. S. O. TO AID COLLECTION OF RUBBER ON FRIDAY

Backing up President Roosevelt's campaign to salvage old rubber more than a half-million volunteer USO workers will turn out Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 25, 26, and 27 in an effort to gather every available ounce.

The USO volunteer movement started in San Francisco and already has spread across the country, according to J. Henry Lang, Pacific Coast special representative of USO's $32,000,000 War Fund Campaign. In New York Tuesday the national USO organizer issued an appeal to all USO workers to join the rubber salvage campaign with the result that cities throughout the country have responded through local USO groups.

The volunteers will apply their efforts to personal and telephone calls to possible holders of rubber and do what they can to see that it is delivered to the oil service stations in each community.

The oil companies throughout the nation are paying a penny a pound for old rubber and in turn selling it to the government. Any profit accruing will be divided between USO, the Red Cross, Navy Relief and Army Emergency Relief.

The tremendous army of USO volunteers is expected to do much toward a final cleanup of the nation of rubber that is so vitally needed in the war effort.

Underground Billposters

THREATENED WITH death or imprisonment, members of Luxembourg's underground organization have defied the Nazis and stuck thousands of these posters on walls and houses all over their little country. As fast as the German authorities tear the posters down, others appear. Poster shows Grand Duchess Charlotte of Luxembourg with her country's flag and coat-of-arms. The motto is that of the Luxembourg Patriots' League, "We Want to Stay What We Are"—that is, free people.

ATTENTION ALL RETAILERS IN THIS TOWNSHIP!

It will be the function of the war price and rationing board to serve as the principal source of public information and retail price control problems in the local community. The local board will bring the administration of the price ceiling down to the community level, and will enlist the cooperation of all citizens in making it operate effectively. Every person selling "cost-of-living commodities" at retail shall file with the local war price and rationing board a statement showing his maximum price for each such commodity, together with an appropriate description, or identification of it.

This list must be filed with the Local rationing board on or before July 1, 1942. The regulation also requires that retailers shall keep such statements up to date by filing with the war price and rationing board on the first of each month the maximum price of any additional cost-of-living commodity sold by him for the first time during the month.

ANNUAL FULL GOSPEL CONFERENCE

The annual Conference of The Full Gospel Conference of the World, Inc., will convene at the Live Oaks Full Gospel Park three miles in the Niles Canyon from the town of Niles; starting June 28th, 1942, and will continue for three weeks.

Many preachers will be in attendance with singers and musical players.

The Conference has leased under contract this park and are planning on making it a permanent conference center.

Free parking and space for campers attending the meet is available; bring your camping equipment and come enjoy this spiritual blessing with us.

Everybody welcome.

Bishop Fred C. Hahn, in charge.

Haphazard spending on food and clothing is an insult to the men in khaki and blue. Your dollars, invested in War bonds, will move tanks and float ships.

HERE'S IDEAS FOR LOCATING SCRAP RUBBER

Here's a new game for the whole family to play. It's called "Stretch your Imagination." All you have to do is look at the advertisements in this paper — and think of rubber.

For example, you see a grocery store ad featuring "peaches for canning." That suggests fruit jars, and they remind you of rubber washers. So you go down into the basement and find a lot of them hanging on a nail. They may be old and useless to you, but not to Uncle Sam. That's the kind of idle rubber he needs — so take them to your neighborhood service station.

Don't stop with just one advertisement! Look at the next one about women's hats. That reminds you of an old hat with an elastic band hanging in your closet. Or the ad featuring Playing Cards. Cards suggest rubber covers for bridge tables, and old rubber coasters.

Next you see a shoe advertisement, and you remember an old rubber heel in the shoe bag. On the next page you read "Father's Day Sale." Right away you recall Dad's old suspenders that he's been trying to discard.

But wait a minute — it's your turn now. Start combing the ads and you'll be surprised how far the power of suggestion can take you. Even if you have to roam from attic to basement, it'll be worth it; because the rubber you don't need will help bounce the Axis!

AUTO TAX STAMP

The $5 automobile tax stamp which car owners must purchase and display in their cars before July 1 is now on sale at all Township postoffices. The new stamps have a place to write in ink your car license number, car make and model, and engine number.

Lost and found columns of Tokio newspapers are crowded these days. Every time an American buys a War Bond, the Japs lose face. Buy your 10% every pay day.

PARRY IN INDIANA

Mrs. Catherine Parry of Niles received a telegram Wednesday morning from her son Jack that he had been assigned to the First Finance Training Battalion at Indianapolis, Indiana for training and that he expects to be there three months. He was formerly teller at the Central Bank in Niles, president of the Niles Junior Chamber of Commerce, Master of the Niles Cub Pack, and general man-about-town.

TWO CLUBS NOSE WESTVACO FOR FIRST POSITION

NEWARK — The Native Sons and Occidental softball teams are now only one game behind the league leaders, Westvaco by virtue of two wins each last week while the league leaders, Westvaco just played one game and defeated Central Chev. 7 to 0.

Softball fans are turning out very well at the games and the Association is hoping that attendance at the games will increase more and more as the season progresses.

Here are the results and highlights of last week's games: Monday evening, Native Sons nosed out Woodmen of the World 1 to 0 in one of the best ball games played this season. Ornellas, winning pitcher, allowed 6 hits, while L. Rogers losing pitcher allowed only one hit. This is the second time this season that Pitcher Rogers has lost a game, allowing a few hits. The winning run scored in the seventh inning was as follows: a basehit, a sacrifice hit, an intentional walk and another walk forcing in the winning run. Up to the seventh inning Rogers for the Woodmen had allowed no runs and no hits to his opponents, also by the aid of fine support by his teammates. Westvaco in the second game shutout Central Chev. 7 to 0.

Wednesday evening, in the first game Native Sons thumped the Wedgewood Club, 10 to 1; while the Knights of Columbus lost the second game on a forfeit for not being able to place ten regular players on the field after the second inning. The Knights won the practice game by a score of 4 to 3 from the Occidental Club.

The Woodmens team in the first game Friday evening got their heavy bats to working again after losing a tough game Monday evening, when they defeated Central Chev. 5 to 2. The second game found Occidental nosing out Wedgewood 3 to 2.

Next week's schedule: Monday evening: Knights of Columbus tangle with Westvaco; and Occidental tangles with Woodmen of the World.

Wednesday evening Wedgewood vs. W.O.W.; and Native Sons vs. Central Chev.

Friday evening Occidental meets Central Chev.; and K. of C. meets Native Sons.

RULES GOVERNING MINORS AT WORK GIVEN BELOW

The following communication regarding the employment of minors in fruit picking or other industry is presented this newspaper for publication by Mr. A. J. Rathbone:

There is considerable confusion in the township regarding employment of children under 18 years of age. The following statements are resumption of the laws confirming such employment. The high school is opened from 9 until 4 daily and I will be glad to issue work permits to anyone desiring the same.

1. All Children under 18 years must obtain work permits except those children who work on farms owned or operated by parents. If minors are employed full time or outside of school hours when schools are in session, employers must secure permits to employ from the school department.

2. No child under 18 years may work before 5 a. m. or after 10 p. m. In agriculture no child under 16 years may work more than 8 hours in one day or more than 48 hours in one week.

3. No child under 16 years may be employed in any occupation dangerous to life or limb, or injurious to health or morals; or in the operation of any motor car or truck; or in any occupation where the minor comes in close contact with moving machinery.

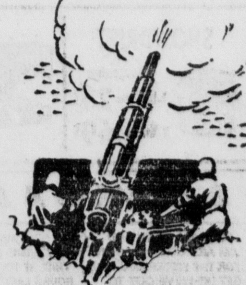

4. Every owner, tenant, or operator of a farm employing parents having minor children in their immediate care must post at a conspicuous place where it may be easily read by those employed, a notice stating that minor children are not allowed to work unless legally permitted to do so by law and unless permits to work have been secured by the children from duly constituted authorities.

5. No owner, tenant, or operator posting such a notice shall be held to have violated the child labor laws because work has been performed by minor children without permits to work unless the minors are directly employed by, or for him, or under his direction, or unless the owner has knowledge of the employment of minors and fails to ascertain if permits to work have been secured for the minors.

6. A separate register containing the names, ages, and addresses of employed minors must be maintained. A notice stating the hours of work must be posted in a conspicuous place. All permits and certificates either to work or to employ are to be kept on file and available.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The 75-millimeter gun is a divisional weapon used by the Artillery as an anti-tank gun. It has been replaced to some extent by the more modern "105", known as the heaviest of divisional weapons. The 75-mm gun costs $12,000 and has been converted by our Ordnance into a "blaster" twice as efficient as in the first World War.

This gun gets maximum power for minimum weight and cost, and the American people are providing the finance through the purchase of War Bonds. If you do your share and invest 10 per cent of your income in War Bonds, adequate supply of this efficient gun can be assured our fighting forces. Buy War Bonds every pay day.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, June 28, on the subject "Christian Science." The Golden Text will be: "Laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby." (I. Peter 2: 1, 2).

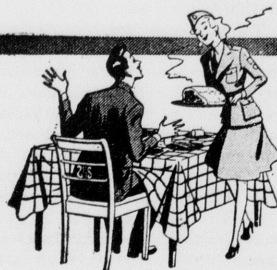

Bible selections will include the following passage from Jeremiah 1: 6, 7: "Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child. But the Lord said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which read as follows: "The author has not compromised conscience to suit the general drift of thought, but has bluntly and honestly given the text of Truth. In the spirit of Christ's charity, — as one who 'hopeth all things, endureth all things,' and is joyful to bear consolation to the sorrowing and healing to the sick,—she commits these pages to honest seekers for Truth." (Pref. x, xii).

Three suggestions that might also be helpful in keeping your husband as well as your Volunteer Office happy are these:

1. Plan all your menus and your shopping in advance. Keep a large stock of canned goods always on hand to fill in the gaps.
2. Set the table and make everything ready for the kitchen before you leave for your defense duties.

3. Prepare such things as meat loaves, macaroni entrees and desserts before you leave.

Adjustment, Not Shortage

RIGHT adjustment in human affairs does not involve shortage. When human thinking is kept in accord with the law of God, lack, limitation, and shortage must disappear. Proper adjustment in world conditions today can be made only through spiritual insight and an increased understanding of God's law of unfailing supply. Supply can be proved equal to demand, because in God's universe there is no shortage of good.

God's abundant supply never changes. It does not come and go with the tide of mortal thinking. God is abundantly pouring forth all good, and the real man is continually receiving this good. For proper human adjustment, thought must yield to the divine in every instance. Personal planning, ambitions, habits, and fixed rules of human conduct must accord with that which is best for the greatest number. An understanding of what constitutes reality will adjust any sense of shortage that would try to present itself. There is a right idea present and available to give us daily whatever to our limited sense of things seems essential for human use. In the thought which is tractable, spiritual, peaceable, these ideas will come to light.

Right adjustment, then, is spiritually mental adjustment to God's law. This adjustment relinquishes human will and selfishness and resigns all to the dear Father's tender, loving care. No shortage can occur from this adjustment, and many latent possibilities of increase will be brought into expression.

When our dear Master, Christ Jesus, discerned the human need of the multitude for food, after they had listened long to his preaching and he found that among them there were but five loaves and two fishes, he commanded that all be seated. "And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves. . . . And they did all eat, and were filled" (Mark 6:41, 42). To human sense, the visible supply seemed very inadequate, and there was much room for doubt as to the possibility of meeting the need. Nevertheless, the unfailing confidence of the Master and his recognition of infinite power put to silence any argument of limitation, and all accepted the increase without question.

Jesus did not entertain an argument of shortage. He did not question whether there was enough to go around. Neither did he consider what he would do when the supply was depleted. He knew that God was supplying the needs of all, and that this supply was at hand regardless of the testimony of mortal sense. "He looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves." He looked to God, whose law was adequate to bring the proper increase. By his spiritual wisdom Jesus proved for us that supply comes through spiritual thinking, and that no human condition can deprive the right thinker of anything he needs. . . .

In "Miscellaneous Writings" Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, states (p. 307): "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies. Never ask for tomorrow: it is enough that divine Love is an ever-present help; and if you wait, never doubting, you will have all you need every moment." What a blessed assurance this is! . . .

A state of mortal thought which would delay proper adjustment is that one which hoards material things at the sacrifice of others' well-being and comfort. Hoarding is an act of selfishness, and deprives the one who indulges it of his reliance upon God, the source and substance of all true supply. To hoard is to admit shortage and limitation and to invite their appearing. Those who wish to abide by our Master's commandments, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength," and "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" (Mark 12:30, 31), will not engage in the practice of limiting their sense of good.

Let the one who is contemplating future inconveniences and losses turn his thoughts to God, who is the Giver and Protector of all good. Can anything change God's universal plan? Can Mind, which gives us daily supplies, ever cease in its production of ideas? Can good lapse into evil or Love change into hate? No, the universal law of Love can never be touched by anything base or unworthy. Nothing can ever change the uninterrupted continuity of Spirit. God's law is continually in operation. Hence, whatever adjustment needs to take place is in individual thinking, so that the human may yield to the divine and God's omnipotence be demonstrated on earth.

God's law is a law of sufficiency. It does not take away from one to give to another. He "is no respecter of persons" (Acts 10:34), but He supplies all of His children with spiritual ideas, and all who will accept them can demonstrate daily supply. Jesus fed the multitude and there was food enough and to spare, "and they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes" (Mark 6:43). This experience proved that God not only supplies our needs but supplies them abundantly. As thought is adjusted to God's law of universal harmony, the beliefs of limitation and shortage will yield to a broader and increasing unfoldment of spiritual ideas. . . .

TYPES OF GASES EXPLAINED HERE

(This is the second of six articles about war gases, their characteristics, and the measures the civilian can take to protect himself against gas injury.)

THE TYPES OF GASES

Some of the war gases are liquids at ordinary temperatures. As evaporation takes place, the vapors given off may cause injury to those in the neighborhood. Some of the gases may "contaminate" an area for several days or even weeks, depending upon the weather. They will evaporate more rapidly if the weather is hot. Such gases are known as "persistent" gases.

Other war gases are released as vapors or evaporate almost at once. They are quickly acted upon by currents and eddies of air which rapidly break up the gas cloud. Such gases are said to be "non-persistent."

Each group is composed of several members but all war gases have one characteristic in common. So that they will remain close to the ground, they are all heavier than air. In addition, all known war gases act either on the skin or the lungs, or both.

There have been wide-spread rumors of new all-powerful gasses, against which there would be no protection, or against which our present gas masks would be ineffective. Such reports are without basis in fact. There are many gases commonly used in industry which are more injurious than any of the known war gases but none are suitable for use as war gases in the open. The gas mask developed for the U. S. Army is a versatile piece of equipment; it is doubtful if any war gas will be developed against which it will prove ineffective.

The soldier in the field cannot leave his post or seek shelter if gas is used against him. To do so would permit the enemy to advance through his lines. The civilian, on the other hand, if gas is used, can take shelter in such a way as to eliminate most of the danger. Even after contact with gas the exposed person can do a few simple things for himself which will in most instances prevent serious injury if carried out promptly. These procedures will be discussed in a later article in this series.

MASONIC HOME NEWS

By J. H. HEATH

Members of the Masonic Home, most of whom admit an abiding fondness for home made jams and jells are wondering what effect the war may have during the duration. This in view of all the fuss about sugar rationing and its bearing on the yearly supply, so generously contributed by the East Bay Matrons Association, whose membership is of the Past Matrons Eastern Star Chapters in the bay area.

Assuming that the members have followed instructions, repeatedly given by Past Grand Matron Willa Jane Hellwig of Alvarado, the calendars of these loyal women are marked with a ring around the third Saturday in August, indicating the date on which, each year, the jams and jells are collected and brought to the home, together with the product of the monthly sewing bees, in the line of garments, quilts, dresser scarfs, etc.

The plan is to assemble at the home at noon, for a basket picnic lunch, with the Grand Matron and her official family guests of honor. The lunch is followed with a colorful reception to the distinguished visitors, and an entertainment, lasting the greater part of the afternoon.

Last year the Niles Township Register set aside a full column telling of the enthusiastic gathering. The report said that many were reminded of the good old Sunday School song where more than 300 Matrons and Patrons, "came rejoicing, bringing in the sheaves." The visit netted in excess of 3000 glasses of jams and jells—a big help to the home management, sure enough, in providing these important luxuries. But this year—well, home folks are wondering.

Speaking of war conditions it is unofficially stated that home folks are not coming across with as much rubber as they should.

Captain and Mrs. W. H. Brittan of San Diego, are passing a few weeks with Mrs. Brittan's daughter, while her husband, Paul Bonham of Oakland is doing surveying work in one of the Richmond Ship building yards.

Father's Day brought cigars for the men and choice confectionery for the women, accompanied by pretty cards with the autograph signatures of the Superintendent and Matron. Ice cream was served at the evening meal. The religious service in the assembly hall was conducted by Rev. W. V. Immel, pastor of the Hayward Christian Church, who brought the young people's choir of his church, presenting several numbers and leading in the Community singing.

In the matter of voices and training the visitors were credited with the best in recent years at the home.

ICE FOLLIES TO HOLD MATINEE ON JULY FOURTH

First daytime performance of the spectacular new Ice Follies of 1942, now playing nightly at Winterland, in San Francisco, will be held Saturday afternoon, July 4, it was announced this week.

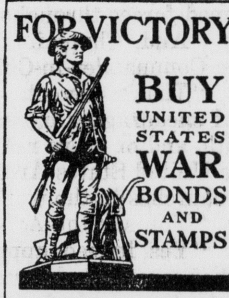

The special matinee was set in response to thousands of requests, a large part of which came from those planning to visit San Francisco over the holiday week-end.

The same great cast of stars and the same sparkling ensembles which appear nightly in the new Ice Follies will be on the program for the matinee, which is the only daytime show now scheduled by the dazzling revue.

International skating stars featured in "the world's greatest musical revue on ice," will all be on hand for the matinee, it was declared by the management. They include Eddie Shipstad, Oscar Johnson and Roy Shipstad, producer-stars of the Ice Follies; Bess Ehrhardt, "America's Sweetheart of the Ice"; Frances Claudet, Osborne Colson, Frick and Frack, the Galbraith and McKellen brothers, Papez and Zwack, the 50 dazzling "Ice Follies" and many others.

The San Francisco engagement of the Ice Follies is carrying on the tremendous boxoffice records set by the glittering show throughout the East during the last winter season, when virtually all performances were sold out. Locally, the show is setting new attendance records each week.

This year's Ice Follies is a completely different version of the famous entertainment which has thrilled more than a million persons in the Bay area during the past three years.

THIS IS, — OUR AMERICAN WAY!

"Would you like a Testament, Soldier?"

"Sure, Chaplain, — but..."

"But what — Soldier?"

"Well, Sir, I'd sure like a Testament, all right, but you may not have my kind."

"Yes, Son, we have your kind. The United States Army respects all religions, all denominations, all creeds. These Testaments, which we are distributing to every officer and enlisted man in the United States Army who requests one, are in the form of the Roman Catholic version, the Protestant version, and the Jewish Holy Scriptures."

"Well, I'll say that's fine, Chaplain. Do you mean to tell me that our Army issues these Testaments, free, to any soldier that wants one?"

"That's correct, Lad. As you may note from this one which I'm handing you now, these Testaments are printed at Government expense by the United States Government Printing Office in Washington. They are published under the direction of the Chief of Chaplains. Provided by the Quartermaster Corps of the United States Army, they are being distributed to our armed forces throughout the world."

"And, Chaplain, I see there's a foreword from our Commander-in-Chief."

"That's correct. And the President's inspiring and encouraging message is for every man, of every faith, and of every religious belief. Do you know that the United States Army, today, is the largest builder of churches in the world?"

"You say the Army builds churches, Chaplain?"

"Yes, indeed, approximately 800 chapels are now either constructed or under construction by the United States Army. And each of these chapels may be used as a place of worship by any man, of any denomination, and of any creed — this, my Son, is the American way."

This conversation represents an interview which may occur at any military post throughout the Ninth Corps Area during the ensuing few weeks, as distribution of Testaments gets under way under the direction of Chaplain (Colonel) Julius J. Babst, Chaplain of the Ninth Corps Area. Arrangements are being perfected by the Chaplain's office to expediate the delivery of the Army Testaments to every officer and man who requests one, as quickly as possible.

A NEW CALIFORNIA

The enormous destruction of war, its gigantic draining of wealth, strength and blood, seems to pre-empt ultimate disaster — even in victory. All wars have seemed so, however, at the time they were waged — yet none has for long stayed the forward march of civilization. In many ways, the shock of war jars men to new effort, new earnestness, new unity, that pays great dividends in accelerated progress.

Even now, while engaged in the costliest and bloodiest war of history, most leaders of American business and public life look to the post-war era with far more of hope than of fear. Presenting a confident but considered viewpoint, Earl Warren, Non-Partisan candidate for Governor of California, told an audience of women last week: "The same natural advantages

The Stars Are Our Allies

By Dr. Henry Stauffer, Berkeley, California

The friendly stars by which I've sailed
Today by clouds of war are veiled,
And right seems wrong and wrong seems right
While men are groping in the night.

While greed and hate will have their day,
They grow the seeds of their decay;
The silent stars their vigil keep,
And those who sow must also reap.

'Tis written in the cosmic trend:
The reign of brutal force must end,
The monster who would conquer all
Is madly riding for a fall.

Precarious is the throne of Mars
Without full sanction of the stars,
For men, though creatures of the dust,
Were made to love, to serve, to trust.

Napoleon, too, for one brief hour
A Fuehrer was of awesome power,
In mass psychology supreme,
To writers an intriguing theme.

He hitched his ear to a bloody star
That lured him onward from afar,
But his accursed lust for rule
Made him ambition's frightful tool.

The rigor of his iron will
Sent frenzied legions forth to kill
And leave their bones in a foreign land,
Obedient to his stern command.

But Russia's wintry snow and ice
Became to him a loaded dice,
And at the noontide of his fame
His great dethronement straightway came.

A warning light on a lonely isle,
A fallen idol in exile,
The evil genius of France,
The self-made victim of mischance!

which attracted war industries — raw materials close at hand and in abundance, a huge oil and hydro-electric power supply, ideal climatic conditions, and rail, truck and water transportation facilities — will build a new California when the war is over that will transcend anything we have ever known, if we are alert to the opportunity.

"This transition, however, can only be accomplished if labor and management and government all cooperate wholeheartedly in bringing it about. During recent months, labor and management have both responded loyally to President Roosevelt's appeal for uninterrupted production — and relations between workers and employers have been vastly improved. We have brushed aside old animosities and misunderstandings; we have begun to put America first and personal advantage second. I believe we have all begun to have a new appreciation of the comradeship of American citizenship."

In the American comradeship of unity in freedom, every grown man and woman, every boy and girl in school, every child in the cradle, may have a part in building this New California, as the years roll and the scars of war fade into time's kindly distances.

MELVIN DOUGLAS, film star consultant to Office of Civilian Defense — "I don't like to see anything flossy or cute mixed up with this business of war. We should have humor and light entertainment, too — but we don't need to take this realistic, grim war in diluted form."

"THE PEASANT GROWS IMPATIENT"

Acknowledging his failure to reconcile the French people to abject subservience, Petain said in his latest radio address: "The enforced passivity of the suffering workman cannot be taken for resignation; the peasant grows impatient."

The French peasants grew impatient with less brutal treatment from a stupid king and insensate aristocracy in 1793. They tore Europe apart and smashed the semi-slavery of feudalism so utterly that it never reared its head successfully in Western Europe again — until 1940. The German-hating French peasant bides his time once more. In his impatience grows a terrible rage and lust for vengeance. Hitler may have heard Petain's admission — and have shuddered.

DEATH OF THE DREADNAUGHT

Ever since the days when the pugnacious young American Navy destroyed Spanish fleets at Manila and Santiago de Cuba, the massive dreadnaught has been the symbol of sea power. Recruiting posters of all navies have displayed the battle wagons, with armor thicker than the wall of an office building, and 16-inch guns. Only a few months ago, the U. S. was completing blueprints for super-battleships of 60,000 tons — rated "unsinkable" by ordnance experts.

Then came the incredible sinkings of the huge British battleships Repulse and Prince of Wales by Japanese bombers. The Japs did more than sink capital ships — they gave a deadly hurt to the prestige of the dreadnaught as ruler of the sea. Later came the battles of the Coral Sea and Midway, with great Japanese fleets smashed and crippled, their proudest giants sunk by U. S. bombs and air torpedoes. Those battles did more than humble Jap sea power — they marked the final death knell of the battleship.

Those 60,000-ton monsters will never be built by Uncle Sam. Carriers and destroyers and submarines remain potent sea weapons; but the battleship is headed for the graveyard of Mars — where rest the stone-age axe, the long bow, the knight's armor, and the wooden man-o'-war. Some day the law of change will make obsolete the bomber too. But for this day, the battleship of the air is the battleship of victory.

MAYOR BOWRON, Los Angeles — "With Canada on the north and Mexico on the south, we know no borders. We will fight together, win together — and enjoy peace together."

THIS IS NEWS!

News, according to newspaper greats from Dana and Pulitzer on, consists of the unusual in events.

It isn't news when a dog bites a man, because dogs frequently bite men. It is news when a man bites a dog, because men bite dogs most infrequently, if ever.

News must have been made in a San Jose divorce court last week, when a judge found a husband guilty of cruelty to his wife on her testimony that he had hit her over the head with the family dog, a spaniel. It was so unusual that the court couldn't find a precedent to rule by. The judge's decision probably set a brand new precedent in American law. The woman asked only that her husband be adjudged guilty of cruelty to her. The court, seeing things as a whole, ruled that the man was guilty also of cruelty to the dog.

The fact is plain, therefore, that it is cruel to hit a woman with a dog. The inference is plain that a man who really loves his dog will not be so cruel to it as to hit a woman over the head with it, irrespective of his attitude toward the woman.

What we're getting at is that, as an humble disciple of the great pioneer editors, we have established in this office a rule that it is definitely news when a man hits a woman over the head with a spaniel dog.

The FARMERS
CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

Approximately 3,000 school districts in California are now in the process of preparing their budgets for the 1942-43 fiscal year and will complete them by July 1.

In total, the school budgets are expected to aggregate $180,000,000 or more — a tremendous expenditure, even measured by war-time standards, and it behooves both farm groups and individual taxpayers to take time out immediately to study the budgets proposed in their respective districts.

In considering a school budget, the first information to look for, of course, is the trend of enrollment, for the number of pupils measures the work to be done. If the enrollment is up, expenditures may be expected to follow; if it is down, the same rule should apply, but costs seldom go down as easily as they go up and substantial reductions in overhead can not be expected if taxpayers are lacking in vigilance.

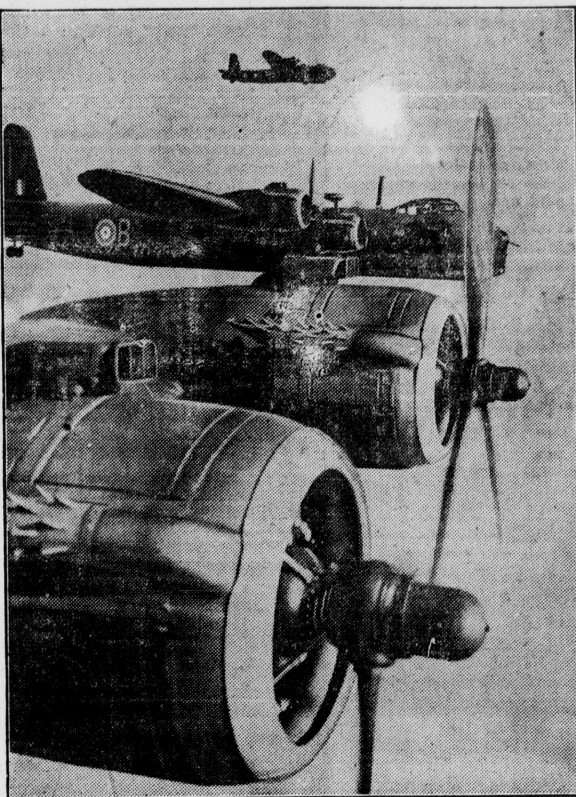

With older boys going into the armed forces by the thousands, and with both boys and girls leaving school to take jobs in war industries, high schools and junior colleges have lost heavily in enrollment during the past year — and there is no reason to expect a return to previous levels until after the war.

Elementary enrollment, on the other hand, is up for the state as a whole, but the increase is not uniform in all sections. In fact, many districts that do not have war industries have lost pupils in their elementary schools, due to the movement of families to industrial centers. But in areas where war industries are centered there has generally been an increase in the number of elementary pupils. The evacuation of Japanese has also drastically affected some districts, as some 20,000 Japanese children have been moved to other areas.

For the farm group, civic group, or taxpayer intent on checking school budgets, here are other important factors to be taken into consideration this year:

1. School building programs have completely disrupted by the war. This will work little hardship where enrollment has decreased, but is a serious problem near industrial centers where some elementary schools are greatly over-crowded and obliged to run two shifts. The impossibility of starting new construction or finishing buildings already started should bring reductions in many school district tax rates, but that result will not come automatically. There will be the undoubted temptation to keep the district rate at the same level and use the money to raise salaries or build up reserves. This is an instance where taxpayers, already heavily burdened with war taxes, need to make their influence felt.

Trouble for Axis

SIXTEEN AUTOMOBILES represent the weight—24 tons—of the bombs being carried by the three R.A.F. Stirling bombers shown in this remarkable picture. These giant four-motor airplanes are on their way to blast German war plants in the mounting British round-the-clock air offensive that has already smashed at the big Krupp, Skoda, and Thyssen works, and at Kiel, Luebeck, Rostock, and other supply bases important to the enemy.

2. War-time restrictions will also reduce the amounts which can or should be spent for many miscellaneous items, such as typewriters, office equipment of all kinds, desks, playground equipment, paper, pencils, soap and towels, rubber bands, wire paper clips, drawing ink, paint brushes and many other small items which add up to big figures. This should be taken into account in figuring budget allocations for equipment and supplies.

In addition, school transportation costs will or should be reduced as a result of the shortage of rubber and new motor vehicles. While school buses are entitled to tires (if available) for use in the direct transportation of pupils to and from school, the use of school buses to carry children to athletic events is prohibited.

On July 1 or before, the district board must submit a tentative budget to the County Superintendent of Schools. On July 15, the Superintendent must return the budget to the local board with or without suggested changes. By July 20, the board must return the budget to the Superintendent. If the district employs more than one teacher and proposes to levy a tax, the budget must be published and a public hearing held during the first week in August; otherwise no public hearing is required and the budget becomes final on its return to the Superintendent on July 20. The County Board of Supervisors has no authority over school matters but merely levies whatever tax rate is required by the budget.

To get results, now is the time for school budget studies — not during July or August. And such radically changed conditions call for thoughtful, careful discussion and planning between school trustees, school administrators, taxpayers and parents of school children. You'd better take a look at that budget!

It has been said that money is the thing everybody wants, but that nobody understands. That being the case, it is not surprising that most men fail to understand inflation — for inflation comes of the public having too much money to spend in relation to the amount of goods available that money can buy.

Mr. Average Citizen can't be condemned too severely if he fails to comprehend that having more dollars than he can readily spend is dangerous both to himself and his country, but California farmers, having suffered untold millions in losses as a result of inflation during World War 1, know something of what it costs, even though they may not have a clear understanding of its processes.

Of vital importance, then, to all farmers, and to the public generally, is Price Administrator Leon Henderson's testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee that if current levels of earnings are maintained, the total national income this year will approximate $117,000,000,000, or TWENTY FIVE BILLION MORE THAN IN 1941. And Mr. Henderson testified further that, due to the enormous war production demands, the supply of consumer goods (commodities available to the general public) will be 26 per cent less than last year. That, of course, spells INFLATION in capital letters, unless effective controls are found to keep it in bounds.

Comments Dr. H. R. Wellman, outstanding agricultural economist and new directing head of the Giannini Foundation of the College of Agriculture: "If runaway inflation comes again, it cannot be too strongly recommended that farmers resist the fatal urge to buy additional land on borrowed money. Inflation is the time to get out of debt, not further into it!"

Reminding farmers of what happened during the last World War, Dr. Wellman reports:

"During the inflation of World War I, prices of farm products as a group rose more rapidly than costs, and farmers generally were prosperous. For the time being, agriculture gained from inflation. It was an exhilarating experience while it lasted. But it did not last very long; the aftermath did. Furthermore, even during the period of inflation, prices of all farm products did not rise equally. In fact, prices of some of them did not rise at all.

"In the latter phase of the inflationary period of World War 1, many farmers throughout the United States went heavily into debt for land and equipment purchased at war-time levels. When prices tumbled in 1920-21, they found themselves with a greatly increased debt burden and a drastically reduced income. They learned by bitter experience a very simple but nevertheless basic fact; namely, that it takes an enormous quantity of low-priced products to pay off debts contracted at high prices."

The only way that farmers can gain even temporarily from inflation, warns Dr. Wellman, is for prices of agricultural products to rise faster than costs of production and costs of living. Similarly, the only way laborers can gain is for their wages to rise faster than costs of living, and the only way business men can gain is for their selling prices to rise faster than their costs. But he points out, quite logically, that "One man's prices are another man's costs!"

During the past two years there has been a large increase in the money incomes of consumers, but until recently this had been accompanied by a large increase in production of consumption goods, and hence prices did not rise appreciably. Now, however, production of consumption goods is being drastically curtailed, but the money incomes of consumers are being further increased. More and more people are being put to work on the production of war materials. Their work does not increase the flow of consumer goods to market, but their incomes add to the market demand for such goods. This, Dr. Wellman correctly asserts, is the type of situation that is conducive to runaway prices.

It is the job of the government officials and the country's leading economists to determine ways and means of coping with the inflation problem. But it is the lay citizen's job to do everything the government asks him to do in fighting this home front war against economic chaos. And farmers, particularly, will do well to remember Dr. Wellman's sound admonition: "Inflation is the time to get out of debt, not further into it."

REPORTS WANTED ABOUT MATERIALS BEING WASTED

Wanted: Information on the dissipation of essential war materials in waste and scrap. Public please take notice.

This was the appeal today of Jos. F. MacCaughy, Director of Salvage, War Production Board, in requesting that Americans who have knowledge of such waste notify him immediately. The plea followed an address in Chicago Monday by Donald M. Nelson, War Board Chief, in which he declared persons who destroy such victory ingredients are guilty of treason and should be branded openly as "traitors".

MacCaughy seconded Nelson's assertion that Americans today are the custodians of most of the world's rare materials and added that many of those most demanded by the battlefronts of the world can be found plentifully through salvage and sometimes mainly there.

"Because this is the case, it devolves upon every American to do his part by reporting such waste," said MacCaughy. "We are interested chiefly in wholesale dissipation, as in the case of cities and manufacturing concerns, but the country's need is such that we will not overlook even minor household waste, in the hope salvaging may be applied on a wholesale scale. Only the other day we found a Southern California City burying its tin-can refuse and a report from an interested citizen caused us to stop the practice immediately.

"Other Americans can do their part by using this as an example."

The Salvage Section address is, Western Pacific Building, 1031 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

ANTELOPES KILLED

SAN FRANCISCO — While final figures are not in, it is expected that the antelope take in California during the first season since 1894 will exceed 400. Up to June 12,390 antelope had been killed by approximately 413 hunters. The season closed Sunday, June 14.

JACK VIEUX' LETTER TURNS TIME BACK

The following letter, written by Jack Vieux of Niles when he was a soldier at Camp Lewis Washington in the last war, addressed to Bill Moore, former poolhall operator in Niles, was presented this newspaper for publication and reads as follows:

Camp Lewis
Oct. 17-17

Dear Bill,

Am still alive although they almost got me with the needle, got shot twice in the arm already and will get the last one Thursday.

Believe me I thank the good Lord that it is the last, it sure made me sick enough.

How is business, good I hope. If they take many more fellows, you'll have to go out of business Bill.

They are coming in here almost 1000 per day, sometimes more. There are forty-six thousand draftees here now.

Three thousand leave Thursday for Luidia Vista, one hundred are leaving from our Co., the rest of us expect to leave within a few days.

We will either go to Palo Alto or to North Carolina.

They haven't placed me yet but expect to soon, was called up to headquarters last week and they said they would either put me in the Engineers or Signal Corps.

I hope they take me away from here soon, I don't like the climate here, it is too cold and damp, had a very severe cold ever since I've been here.

They don't drill us very hard however, we get about 3 or 4 hours a day.

We are off every Wednesday, Saturday and Sundays. Can't say much about the cooking, our cooks must have cooked for a bunch of hogs before they came here, they sure can't cook for a human being.

I heard that Bill went out of business, it's too bad. I suppose things must have been dull. I haven't heard from him, send me his address.

This is all Bill as we have to go to bed early in this hotel.

Remember me to John B. and the rest of the boys, also the wife. Wishing you all the luck in the world.

I am yours sincerely,
J. J. Vieux

'LADY HAS PLANS' BRINGS LAUGHS

Loosen your stays and let out your seams, because the funniest spy-hunt thriller ever unreel — Paramount's "The Lady Has Plans" is coming to the Niles theatre next Sunday and Monday.

Co-starred in this mile-a-minute merry chase are Ray Milland and Paulette Goddard, assisted by Roland Young, Albert Dekker, Margaret Hayes and Cecil Kellaway.

The story is spiced with hilarious situations stemming from the fact that foreign agents in Lisbon mistake reporter Paulette Goddard for a spy who has, drawn upon her back in invisible ink, plans stolen from the U. S. Navy. Everyone, including newscaster Ray Milland, finds Paulette's back irresistible.

San Francisco had less industrial strife in 1941 than a dozen other comparable metropolitan centers.

AUTO FLOOR MATS CAN GREATLY HELP USED RUBBER DRIVE

Contribution of automobile floor mats to the scrap rubber collection drive would yield an average of about 20 pounds per car, the California State Automobile Association estimated in a report today showing the great help that the suggested sacrifice of mats would be to the rubber salvage campaign.

"If every motorist in the land would contribute the rubber mats from driver's floor-boards and from luggage compartment, a total of approximately 100,000 tons would be added to the scrap collection pile," the Automobile Association said.

"A substitute mat of old carpet linoleum, or other material can be used. This should be done to prevent dust and dirt from blowing about in the car.

"In view of the nation's critical need for rubber, both for military and essential civilian needs, the contribution of automobile mats is a small enough sacrifice.

"Rubber will serve the nation much better either in military equipment or on the wheels of essential vehicles than on the floors of automobiles."

CHICAGO FIRE BURNS AGAIN IN 'WILD BILL HICKOK'

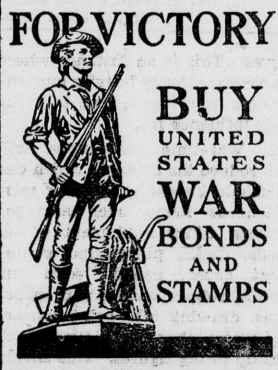

There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight. Chicago's burning down again.

The famous fire of October 9, 1871 has been touched off once again. This time by Warner Bros. for "Wild Bill Hickok Rides," which opens Sunday at the Niles Theatre, with Constance Bennett, Bruce Cabot and Warren William.

Motion picture archives are too disorganized to allow for an accurate count on how many times Chicago has graciously consented to blaze away for the benefit of Hollywood's cameras. It's one of those things that gives the impression of a world standing by fiddling while a 70-decade holocaust rages.

Everything but Mrs. O'Leary's original cow, which is played by a reasonable facsimile, is present in the film version.

THREE GRASS FIRES

NEWARK — The Newark Fire Department was called out three times last week to extinguish grass fires, although no great damage was done at any fire. On Thursday there was a grass fire near the Newark Observation Post, while on Friday the Newark Department extinguished two grass fires within ten minutes along the Southern Pacific railroad tracks, one fire south of the fire station and the other fire east of the fire station.

SPEAKER GARLAND IS RUNNING FOR BOARD POSITION

Declaring that the election of Assembly Speaker Gordon Garland to the Board of Equalization, Second District, would be a "major contribution to the cause of Good Government in California," Clifford C. Anglim, former chairman of the Democratic State Committee, today announced that he had accepted the chairmanship of the Garland Campaign Committee.

"On the basis of his record and background," Anglim said, "Speaker Garland is the outstanding man standing for election to the Board of Equalization post made vacant by the death of Fred Stewart.

"He has demonstrated a capacity for unselfish, courageous and intelligent public service, which thus far has resulted in saving the people of California millions of dollars. In fact, the current favorable financial position of the State might well be attributed to his work as leader of the legislature.

"I am convinced that his election to the Board of Equalization will be a major contribution to the cause of Good Government in California, and I am proud to join with other outstanding citizens of the Second District in urging his election in the August 25th primary."

Anglim, who is known as an "original Roosevelt man," managed the 1936 campaign for President Roosevelt in California, and resigned last month as Collector of Internal Revenue for Northern California, to re-enter the private practice of law. His record includes public service as Director of the Federal Housing Administration for Northern California, and a term in the Assembly representing Contra Costa County.

NEWARK CLUB TRIMS MCCORMICKS BY 13-6 SCORE

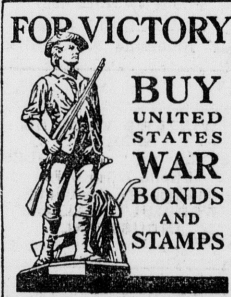

NEWARK—The Newark Sportsmen's baseball team handed the McCormick Independents of Oakland a one-sided trouncing to the tune of 13 to 6 Sunday at the Newark school diamond. Frank McCormick's lads proved to be a hustling ball team, even though the club failed to hit in the clutch. The pitchers were battered considerably and committed numerous errors. However, it must be said that Mr. McCormick has developed several ballplayers from this area such as Freddie Muller and Larry Bettencourt. Mr. McCormick also stated that the Newark Club had several good consistent ballplayers such as Melvin Nunes, Larry Bettencourt, Rufus Lebon and Ralph Chapman.

Although the Sportsmen took an early lead of five runs over their opponents due to faulty baseball playing and numerous errors, the McCormick's tied the score at 5 to 5 at the end of the third inning.

Melvin Nunes played good defense ball, making some wonderful catches, and obtained two hits for himself out of five tries. Joe Dutra for Newark hit a long home run over the left-center field fence in the lucky seventh to score Chapman ahead of him. Chapman got three hits out of five tries; Soito got two doubles out of four tries; and Lebon hit 2 for 4, one a long triple. Bettencourt also for Newark hit 2 for 4. J. Valencia for the losers hit a home run with the bases empty. Hamel for the losers got three hits out of three tries.

Stewart for Newark pitched the entire game allowing eleven hits, while Smallin, Silvey and Valencia for the losers allowed 15 hits.

For next Sunday's game at Newark, baseball fans are requested to watch the Oakland Tribune Sport Page on Sunday morning in the Bush Baseball Bookings.
